Known as the New Love Strategist, is all about bringing comfort, hope, and clarity to those seeking answers in, and wanting to bring an end to, their singleness so they can win at love. "I, myself, have struggled in this area. I know what it feels like to want love and a relationship so badly, but to not be even remotely prepared for it. I encourage single women to prepare! My purpose is to help single women dwell in God's love, develop self-love, to discover real love," Victoria says.

Coach Vee, the New Love Strategist, has self-published 7 books. In addition, she is the founder, creator, and teacher at New Heart Academy, a 12-week intensive for serious women. Over the years, she has helped dozens of women heal, successfully date, get engaged, and even married via live courses, workshops, and masterclasses. Victoria, host of the Freedom Reigns podcast, has hosted and spoken at numerous women's conferences across the country. She uses her gifts of teaching, exhortation, and wisdom to help her clients and audience heal, find contentment, prepare, and win at love, all while being Spirit-led. *"I want women to see that He is doing a new thing in their life.
